

Welcome to the Jewish Grandparents Network. We are delighted you dropped in.

Join us as we explore new ways for grandparents to play joyful and meaningful roles in our families, cherish our time together, and share our Jewish stories and traditions.

Who We Are

The Jewish Grandparents Network is a national organization that educates, connects, and supports grandparents as essential partners in enriching Jewish life. We envision a Jewish world that embraces grandparents as vital to our families, our communities, and our future.

What We Believe

Grandparents and grandchildren have a unique relationship.

Therefore: We infuse our experiences and resources with joy and meaning — and fun and silliness — to surprise and delight grandparents and grandchildren.

Grandparents play an influential role in their families.

Therefore: We provide learning opportunities for grandparents as they seek to fulfill this role thoughtfully and meaningfully.

Grandparents have deep Jewish aspirations for their grandchildren and families.

Therefore: We provide the how and why of Jewish grandparenting through a safe, welcoming gateway.

Grandparents become better grandparents when they learn from one another.

Therefore: We build communities of grandparents to support one another and to share and learn together.

Jewish community and organizational life is stronger when grandparents are engaged.

Therefore: We partner with communities and organizations to create innovative ways to involve grandparents and their families.
